Use These Instructions to Help You Complete Form
CAO D 8-3 Decree of Divorce (No Minor Children)

In an uncontested or default divorce, the Decree of Divorce must have exactly the same information as the Petition. You cannot change anything without the agreement of the other party. If you do need or want to make changes that both of you agree upon, you can file a “Stipulation for Entry of a Decree of Divorce.” You will need form CAO D 6-8 Stipulation for Decree and CAO D Inst 6-1 Finalizing Decree by Stipulation. You can obtain these forms from a Court Assistance Officer or at the Idaho Supreme Court’s Self-Help Center at <http://www.courtselfhelp.idaho.gov/>.

Exactly like you did in the Petition, at the top left-hand corner of page 1, fill in your name, address and telephone number. Fill in the county and judicial district in the heading (for example, “In the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District in and for the County of Ada”). Fill in your full legal name in the caption above “Petitioner”. Fill in your spouse’s full legal name above “Respondent.” Fill in the Case Number.

Beginning with paragraph 2, complete the Decree as follows:

- If you want a court order confirming that specific separate property belongs to the Wife, or an order that separate property be returned to the Wife, check the third box and describe the property in the first section of “Exhibit A.”

- If there is specific property awarded to the Wife, check the third box and list the property in the second section on “Exhibit A” (Wife’s community property).

Note: The Decree of Divorce can be used to transfer titles or deeds; but only if the description of the property is first listed in the Petition or there is a Stipulation for Entry of Decree and the property description is complete and accurate (example: for vehicles, all identifying information on the title; for real property, a legal description of the property and not just the residential address of the property).

If you have listed any property on “Exhibit A,” the Exhibit pages must be attached to every copy of the Decree of Divorce.
