Community Policing

Partners In Our Community

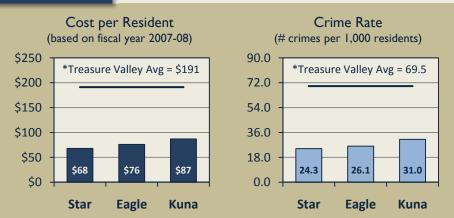

Much of our success is due, in part, to valuable partnerships we've developed with members of our community and with other local, state and federal agencies.

Some of our most successful partnerships can be seen in our policing contracts with Eagle, Kuna and Star. All three cities that contract with the ACSO enjoy the lowest crime rates in the Treasure Valley! Residents in each of the towns also enjoy a much lower cost for law enforcement services.

Together We Make a Difference

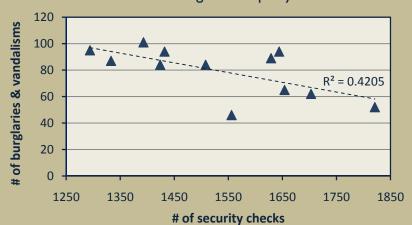

We know the best way to prevent crime is through education and information. By letting you know what is happening in our community and ways you can protect yourself, deputies are able to prevent many crimes from ever happening.

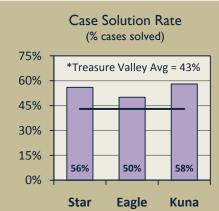

In 2008, Ada County Sheriff's patrol deputies emphasized security checks at businesses, construction sites and residential areas where more vehicle burglaries and vandalisms were being reported. Deputies talked to neighbors about the importance of locking doors and shutting garages. As a direct result of their work, we saw few property crimes in our jurisdiction.

*Treasure Valley average includes Boise, Garden City, Meridian, Caldwell and Nampa. Calculated from COMPASS population estimates (http://www.compassidaho.org/prodserv/demo-current.htm), city police budgets, and number of offenses and clearance rates in Crime In Idaho 2008 (Idaho State Police, Bureau of Criminal Identification, Uniform Crime Reporting Section, http://www.isp.state.id.us/identification/ucr/crimeinidaho2008.html).

Ada County Jail

Give Respect – Get Respect

The most fundamental goal inside our jail is to maintain a safe, secure environment for inmates and staff. Effective inmate behavior management is the cornerstone of that mission.

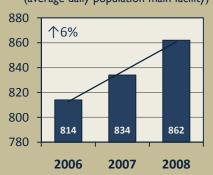

Our jail deputies are trained to maintain safety and security through positive interactions with inmates. The system relies on properly classifying and housing inmates based on risks and needs. We then set very clear expectations of inmate behavior and train deputies on proper ways to interact with them.

By effectively managing inmate behavior, we are able to safely reduce the number of staff required to directly supervise them. The result is a cleaner, safer and more efficient jail at a reasonable cost to taxpayers.

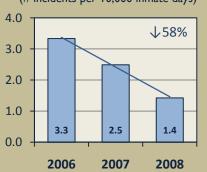

Health Services Facility

The Ada County Jail opened a new 81-bed Health Services Facility in January of 2008. The new facility provides 13x more space, allowing our highly-trained medical staff to treat more inmates inside the jail, saving the cost and safety-risks associated with transporting inmates to and from offsite health care facilities. If it were an independent facility, the Jail Health Services Unit would be the 12th largest hospital in the state.

Inmate-on-Inmate Violence (# incidents per 10,000 inmate days)

Keeping a Pulse on Jail Culture

We believe it's important to monitor inmates' feelings and the culture inside the Ada County Jail. To help us do that, we survey a sample of inmates weekly to gauge their experience in our facility. Their responses help us monitor well-being of inmates, test changes such as a new menu and could serve as an early warning indicator of potential security issues.

In 2008, we surveyed 1,275 inmates and found:

83% of inmates felt safe while in the Ada County Jail 75% thought jail staff were professional

Very few inmates reported seeing contraband or unsafe behavior during their stay:

0.5% inmates observed weapons and

1.6% tobacco, 1.8% drugs, 1.5% gang activity

What Matters Most

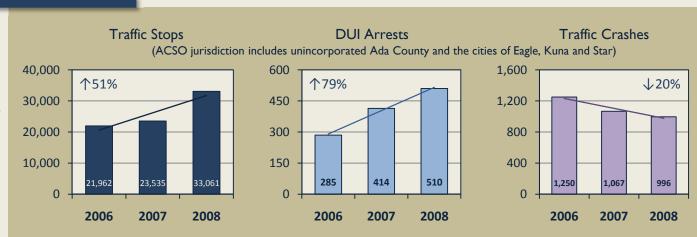

Keeping Our Roads Safe

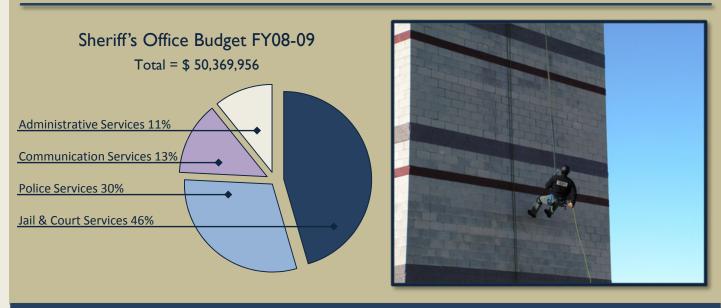

By focusing on areas where traffic is a concern, deputies are able to help reduce the number of crashes on Ada County roads. In 2008, deputies stopped more drivers to warn them of the dangers of speeding and aggressive driving. They also made more DUI arrests, taking more dangerous drivers off the road. At the same time traffic stops and DUI arrests increased, the number of crashes decreased. Ada County deputies – making your roads safer too!

Making Each Dollar Count

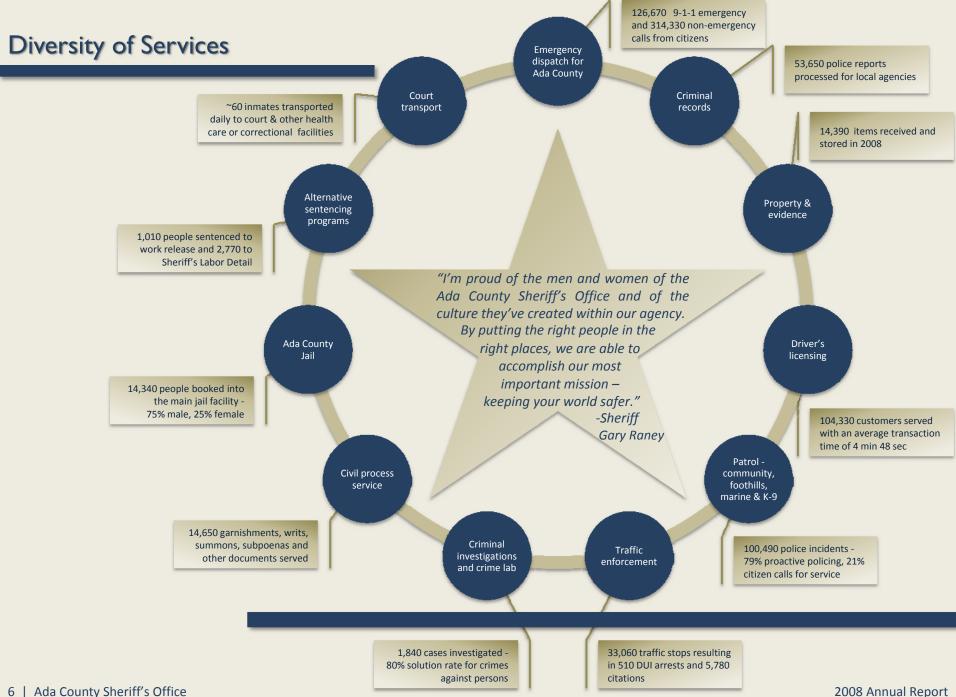

The Ada County Sheriff's Office budget makes up 44% of the overall County budget, so fiscal responsibility is something we take very seriously. With the slowing economy, we have been challenged to find new and innovative ways to reduce our costs.

In 2008, we looked very closely at our agency budget, realigned resources and adjusted staffing to ensure every taxpayer dollar goes toward what matters most. Even under a leaner budget, however, we will continue to provide the level of service you expect from the ACSO. We continually look for ways to do more with less – smart ways to increase the level of service we provide while decreasing the cost to taxpayers.

ACSO Executive Command

Law enforcement is something people don't give much thought to until you really need it – until you call 911, are the victim of a crime, need to file a report or have a loved one booked into jail. It is in moments like these that law enforcement and the level of service you receive become critically important.

Major Ron Freeman
Chief Deputy

Every so often, we conduct a formal survey to get the community's feedback about the ACSO. It helps us recognize what we're doing well and identify opportunities for change. Some key points from the 2008 Community Survey include:

- ❖ 94% of our stakeholders believe the quality of life in Ada County is good or excellent.
- * 86% believe they live where neighbors look out for each other.
- The top concern in neighborhoods is property crime, followed by traffic.
- 91% of stakeholders believe the job the ACSO does for them is good or excellent.

Sheriff Gary Raney

We take pride in these numbers because they reflect the dedication and commitment we see from members of this agency every day. There is not one thing but many that help to shape the values of the ACSO. Maybe it's a smile, a calm voice on the other end of the phone, a few extra minutes to help solve a problem or explain a situation – we are committed to doing what it takes to remain the law enforcement agency of choice in the Treasure Valley.
